Access To Federal Records Promised Probers of Crime

President Pledges Full Co-Operation In National Check

WASHINGTON, June 1.—(AP)—Senate crime investigators said President Truman promised to "everything in his power" to support the investigation. He said an executive order by the President to make income and other tax records available in "the works."

Chairman Kefauver (D-Tenn.) said Truman promised to "everything in his power" to support the investigation. He said an executive order by the President to make income and other tax records available in "the works."

Senator Tamm (R-Mo.) chimed in to say that Truman "is backing us 100 per cent."

Besides Tamm, Senators O'Connor (D-Md.) and Wiley (R-Wis.) of the committee accompanied Kefauver to the White House for the conference with Truman.

Kefauver said the President "made no reservations whatsoever" in promising co-operation of the executive branch of the government with the committee.

The committee members said Truman told them he wants everything done to assure "a thorough-going job." They said he gave a complete "go ahead."

Kefauver said records to be made available will include treasury tax records.

Kefauver said there was no discussion with Truman as to what cities the committee might pick for inquiries. He said there was no discussion of Kansas City or any other particular locality.

He mentioned Miami, where hearings were conducted recently, as an indication of a city where the committee received co-operation.

The chairman said earlier that the committee already has uncovered a business link between Florida and California gamblers.

Kefauver told a reporter that investigators have proof that Mickey Cohen of Los Angeles and John O'Rourke of West Palm Beach, Fla., have been doing business "over a long period of time."

Both Cohen and O'Rourke, the chairman said, have been linked with bookmaking and gambling operations.

Kefauver made his statement shortly before the five man committee went to the White House.

Dairy Program In County Discussed By C Of C Panel

A grade "B" dairy program for Navarro county—urged by Borden representatives—was frowned on by members of the Corsicana Chapter of Commerce's dairy committee at a meeting Thursday morning.

Members indicated that local farmers would take up grade "A" program in the event of expanded dairy facilities.

The committee now is working on a dairy calf club for young future farmers, a project whereby the rural kids will be furnished registered dairy calves to be either paid for three years later or refunded when the heifer produces a calf.

His committee chairman, Claude Walker, explained that such a project would improve the quality and quantity of the county's dairy herd and educate the younger generation into the dairying industry.

But grade "A" milk was stressed.

W. E. Schmidt, field supervisor for Borden's whose headquarters are in Tennessee, cited the importance of a "supplemental income" to the small farmer who can't make more on the "goat route."

Walker said he figured "very few farmers would go into the dairying industry."

Japan's Communist Party Calling General Strike As Trial Protest

By RUSSELL BRINES

TOKYO, June 1.—(AP)—Openly defiant, Japan's Communist party today ordered a general strike Saturday in reprisal for the occupation trial of eight Japanese accused of kicking and stoning American soldiers.

The strike call promised to bring to a head growing tension between General MacArthur's occupation and the belligerent Communists.

This tension, fueled by recent international communist charges that the Japanese Red were too docile, erupted Memorial Day in the first physical violence of the occupation against U. S. troops.

The Communist party howled that the plaza incidents were caused "by systematic and organized provocations by spies and henchmen."

Students—rise up and start a general strike demanding immediate release of the eight patriots.

It timed the reprisal strike to coincide with general strikes Saturday in the automobile, metal trades and heavy industry.

The party's purpose in the latter is to influence the elections Sunday for the upper house of parliament.

The first days' trial of the eight, all students and unemployed workers, continued until nearly midnight. The second session was recessed late this afternoon until Friday with the prosecution case completed.

Atlanta Starts Jitney Service To Beat Bus Strike

ATLANTA, June 1.—(AP)—The city of Atlanta began setting up a jitney service today as a makeshift replacement for trolleys and buses for two weeks by a drivers' strike.

Mayor William Hartsfield ordered "courtesy cars" off the streets as illegal. His action came after the wheels of the ruling Atlanta City Attorney J. Charlie Murphy that courtesy cars which charge fares or accept donations are illegal unless licensed by the city.

Atlanta has been without a public transportation system for its approximately 400,000 citizens for two weeks. Members of the Amalgamated Association of Street, Electric Railway and Motor Coach Employees of America (AFL) walked out, demanding an eight cent hourly wage hike. The current scale for the 1250 drivers is $1.35 per cent increase. In 1940, the company said it could not pay the requested increase.

The jitneys will be allowed to charge a 10-cent fare, the same fare charged by the trolleys and buses before the strike. When the strike is over, all jitney permits will be voided, said Police Chief Herbert Jenkins.

When the operators struck, they began operating their own automobiles as "courtesy cars," charging no fares but accepting donations. There have been numerous reports of courtesy cars operated by persons other than trolley drivers, charging high fares.

The drivers' union and the power company are still deadlocked.

Norton, Blough Gain Approvals

WASHINGTON, June 1.—(AP)—Two of President Truman's latest nominations for important administration posts were approved unanimously today by the Senate Banking committee.

Edward Lee Norton, of Birmingham, Ala., investment banker and radio station owner, for a 14-year term to the Federal Reserve Board of Governors at $16,000 a year.

Roy Blough, Chicago university professor and former government tax expert, for the vacant third place as one of the President's economic advisers at $16,000 annually.

Dallas Population Is Set At 450,000 With Waco Climbing Up To 83,797

By the Associated Press

C. W. Russell, District Census Director, says he expects the 1950 count to show Dallas has a population of just over 450,000 persons. That's only an estimate, but Russell said the population of Dallas is just a fraction from complete.

An estimate of 450,000 doesn't include the park cities—Universities and Highland—or Cockrell Hill or Fruitdale. Though they are completely surrounded, these communities are separate municipalities.

Russell's estimate of Dallas' population was one of several census reports Wednesday and today.

The report for Nolan county shows it increased 2,488 persons: From 17,309 to 19,797. Fisher county: From 10,985 to 12,938 from 1940. Comanche county: From 15,458 to 17,387 from 1940. The City of Comanche gained 623 to 3,832; Rotan increased 130 to 3,159; Rotan was up 136 to 1,040.

Tired Communist Youth End Strike, Start For Homes

LUEBECK, Germany, June 1.—(AP)—Ten thousand sleep Communist youths marooned for two nights just inside the Soviet zone started moving toward their West German homes today after calling off their sit-down strike.

The blue-sheathed boys and girls accepted West German police demands that they give their names or submit to medical examinations before crossing the border.

They had been camping in the chilly border "no man's land," refusing to heed the police orders, since Tuesday night when they reached the East-West zonal frontier after wading the Communist Whitson rally in Berlin.

The weary youths capitulated after a sleepless night during which they piled their straw bedding over for any possible contagious disease contracted in their crowded Berlin quarters.

There were no incidents in the early hours. Western police said doctors found no illness among the youths.

After the border medical check-up, the young Reds wound in a long column toward Luebeck's main railway station where they were to be housed in West German homes. They appeared too tired even to chant Communist songs as they had done Wednesday.

ICC Examiners Okay Express Hike On Fruits

WASHINGTON, June 1.—(AP)—Two ICC examiners today recommended an increase of nine cents per hundred pounds on carload fruit and vegetable shipments from Western producing areas.

The hike was proposed by the Interstate Commerce Commission's fruit and vegetable committee. The increase would amount to an average of $23.40 a car.

It would apply to carload lots of fruits and vegetables, fresh frozen or dried, shipped from Arizona, California, New Mexico, Utah and Colorado, tomato plants from California and Nevada, and celery plants from California, going to any point in the United States and to berries, fruit and vegetables moving in car loads from Arizona, California, Idaho, Oregon and Washington to various Canadian destinations.

The examiners, Otto A. Hanson and M. J. Walsh, noted that a similar nine cent increase has already been applied to carload berry and vegetable express shipments from Florida and Texas.

The company has indicated that if the Interstate Commerce Commission approves the far west rate increase, the same increase will be made general throughout the Mississippi Valley and in the Pacific Northwest.

Census Of U. S. Is Now Reported 98% Complete

WASHINGTON, June 1.—(AP)—Census Director Robert V. Healy announced today the 1950 population count is about 98 per cent complete, but recounts may be necessary in a few districts.

He said observations of supervisors throughout the nation already point to such trends as: "Widespread evidences of an improved standard of living as indicated by home facilities and utilities."

"Large population increases on the West Coast, in Texas, Florida, and in the industrial areas around the Great Lakes."

"Great growth in the suburban areas of large cities—some of this at the expense of central city populations."

"A shrinkage in farm population in those areas where increased mechanization is contributing to the loss of jobs."

"A large proportion of women in the population and a considerable increase in women workers."

An even greater proportionate increase in the number of households (families living as a group) than in total population.

"An increased proportion of the population in the very low and highest age groups."

Storm-Damaged Wires Kill Three At Greenville

GREENVILLE, June 1.—(AP)—Three persons—one a four-year-old girl—were electrocuted in Greenville Wednesday night when they came in contact with high voltage wires.

Both accidents were caused by high voltage wires blown loose by a storm Monday night.

V. A. Laird, 42, a city lineman was killed at 7:15 p. m. Not quite two hours later, Arck L. Steinbaugh, 50, and his granddaughter, Celia Steinbaugh, were electrocuted.

Steinbaugh was driving around a light pole on an unpaved street when his car stuck in the mud. When he stepped out, he stepped on a 2,400 volt wire lying on the ground. Apparently the child got out to see what her grandfather was doing and came in contact with the wire.

Laird came in contact with a 2,400 volt wire lying on a cross road at a light pole. He had climbed the pole to repair work. After contacting the wire, he fell 25 or 30 feet.

Peru's President Resigns Office, Now Is Candidate

LIMA, Peru, June 1.—(AP)—Peru's military president, Gen. Manuel Odría, became a self-styled "plain citizen"—and an office seeker—today.

The office he seeks is the presidency. He resigned Wednesday night.

A cabinet announcement said the general resigned the post he seized 18 months ago to become a candidate in the national elections July 2. He will be succeeded by Minister of War Zemon Noriega.

Odría, in October 1948, deposed President Jose Luis Bustamante after a three-day, bloodless army revolt. He named an all-military cabinet, or junta, which with several changes has served since then.

The cabinet Wednesday also decreed that in the July elections—the first national balloting since the junta took office—the only congressional candidates would be those endorsed by a registered presidential aspirant.

To date no presidential aspirants have registered their candidacies.

State Health Board Approves Bids, Plans For New Memorial Hospital

The State Board of Health, hospital division, approved the bids and plans for the Navarro County Memorial Hospital Wednesday.

Joe D. Huffstutler, county judge, advised the commissioners court Thursday morning. Huffstutler said the R. B. Bell, architect, and G. Clark of Fort Worth carried the bids, bonds, certified copies of proceedings, etc., to Austin.

Judge Huffstutler said Dr. George Cox, state health officer, was to sign the papers last Wednesday and forward them Thursday to the regional federal office in Dallas for federal approval.

The low and acceptable bids, opened last week total $1,210,622.66. This does not include nurses' home nurses equipment, main hospital equipment, architects' fees, and filling in of dirt about the hospital and the construction of roads. The members of the court took their oaths as members of the 1950 board of equalization of county properties, but did not indicate when they planned to begin this task.

Reasons were passed calling for the payment of $5,000 maturing bonds in Road District No. 4 and $3,000 bonds in Road District No. 5. The state will pay $15,000 of the total $5,000, and the county will pay $4,500.40.

The application of A. A. Armstrong, assessor and collector of taxes, for two deputies, Rova Ward and Eloy Jean Daniel, $100 per month salary for revamping guide and block books, was approved.

The monthly report of the Corsicana Health Unit and the quarterly report of R. W. Jones, county treasurer, for the period beginning February 1 and ending April 30, were approved.

Only one bid, that from B. A. George of Corsicana, was received for the proposed painting of the offices occupied by the county superintendent, county clerk and assessor and collector of taxes. The bid was not opened and the court voted to re-advertise for bids to be opened Monday, June 12.

Claims were allowed except as noted on the claim docket.

Nine Navy Men Die in Flaming Crash Of Plane

QUONSET, R. I., June 1.—(AP)—Nine navy men died today when a twin-engine patrol plane crashed and burned at this naval air base while making an emergency landing.

The plane was reported en route to Argentina, Newfoundland, when engine trouble developed 23 minutes after leaving here.

Commander Raymond Glasgow, in charge of public information, said the pilot and co-pilot escaped. The remainder of the crew was trapped in the blazing plane as a rescue crew stood by unable to reach them.

Glasgow said the plane hit the runway hard, overturned on its back and burst into flames. One engine died shortly after the takeoff and the plane headed back here. Before reaching the landing field the dead engine broke out in flames.

Federal Judge To Name Counsel For Red Courier

PHILADELPHIA, June 1.—(AP)—A federal judge will appoint counsel, perhaps today, for Harry Gold, who said that he will plead guilty to espionage charges.

Looking worried and with his head held low, Gold was brought under heavy guard to the chambers of U. S. District Judge James E. McGurney. It was McGurney who placed Gold under $100,000 bond on May 23, when FBI agents arrested him as the link between the convicted British atomic spy, Klaus Fuchs, and Soviet operatives.

Fuchs is serving a 14-year term in Britain after confessing that he passed on information gained as a member of the British atomic bomb project to the Soviet Union.

Greater Houston May Hit 700,000

HOUSTON, June 1.—(AP)—Greater Houston will have a 1950 population figure of about 700,000, Census District Director George Findlay said today.

Findlay said his estimate includes Houston's nearby municipalities of West University Place, Bellaire, South Side Place, South Houston, Pasadena, Jacinto City and Calena Park, and unincorporated areas on the fringes of Houston.

Preliminary figures have been released for the 1940 census, with 10,003. In 1940 Bellaire had 1,124 residents.

Taxicab Driver Wrestles Mad Dog To Save Children

ATLANTA, June 1.—(AP)—A taxicab driver, father of five children, wrestled with an apparent mad dog Wednesday to save a group of 82 terrified kindergarten pupils.

"Any man with kids of his own would have done exactly what I did," said 28-year old Rick Parker, shrugging off his act of bravery.

Parker spotted the dog, running wildly and foaming at the mouth, as he drove past the school. Classes were changing and the youngsters were on the grounds.

The alert cab driver threw his car in reverse and put it between the mongrel dog and the children. He shouted at a patrolling policeman to get the children inside.

Then the dog darted around the cab and Parker flung himself upon it. As the children watched from the windows, he wrestled the dog down the street. A youth in the neighborhood finally killed the dog with a rifle. Parker was bitten on one hand and was given an anti-rabies shot.

The dog's head was taken to a laboratory for a rabies test.

To the school kids, the air force veteran was a personal hero. "Better than in the comic books," said one.

Power Is Requested To Meet Red Shifts

Johnson Urges Prompt Extension Of Draft Statute

WASHINGTON, June 1.—(AP)—Secretary of Defense Johnson pleaded with congress today to extend the Truman power to draft men into the armed services in time of emergency.

He won partial support from Senator Knowland (R-Calif.), who said he is changing his views because of what he called the possibility of an atomic attack.

Johnson asked the senate armed services committee for a three year extension of the draft act without a house-approved extension leaving up to congress as to when any inductions could take place.

"If trouble comes, there should be in the commander-in-chief the power to act immediately without waiting to re-assemble congress," Johnson said.

Knowland told Johnson he originally had favored the house version but now thinks some other arrangement is necessary.

"If the city of Washington were contaminated by atomic attack, the capital couldn't be moved without congressional approval," Knowland said.

He added that if an atomic explosion wiped out congress, the senate could be replaced by appointments made by governors. But he said it might take 60 days or more to hold special elections to obtain enough new house members to transact business.

Senator Saltonstall (R-Mass.) asked Johnson whether he would rather have no draft act than the house bill.

Johnson squirmed, but said if it came to such a choice, he would take the house bill. He said extension of the draft act is necessary to keep the United States "in a state of alert" against possible attack.

Independent Oil Men Favor Curbs On Crude Imports

WASHINGTON, June 1.—(AP)—Coal and independent oil producers asked congress today to curb foreign oil imports which they said are creating progressive unemployment in domestic fuel industries.

H. B. Fell, executive vice-president of the Independent Petroleum Association of America, Ardmore, Okla., said the House subcommittee that oil product employment had fallen almost 15,000 and refinery employment about 8,000.

Domestic oil producers feel, he said, that the excessive imports of petroleum and its products in the United States is the most detrimental factor now affecting the domestic oil industry and accordingly labor in oil industries and other industries.

Fell said his association favored any one of three proposals now before congress. These would (1) establish oil import quotas; (2) increase import excise duties; and (3) provide a quantity balance between exports and imports.

For himself, Fell said he preferred the excise tax. Oil prices now amount to approximately 10.5 cents a barrel. On the basis of competitive cost by the domestic oil industry, he advocated increasing this to $1.05 a barrel.

The senate committee is considering a resolution by Senator Neely (D-W. Va.) to determine causes of increasing unemployment in coal, railroad, oil, silver, lead and zinc industries.

French President Will Visit U. S.

WASHINGTON, June 1.—(AP)—President Auriol of France will visit the United States next March. The White House announced today that the French President and Madame Auriol are expected to come to the United States for a state visit in the second half of March, 1951.

Kansas City's Centennial Observance To Start Saturday After Struggles

By AL DOPKING

The battle for Kansas City's Centennial has been almost as rugged as the famous Civil War battle of Westport here. But partner, come Saturday, it looks like a victory.

That day Kansas City officially will be 100 years old. And Kansas City is all set to celebrate.

It is going to tell its story how it began as a little Missouri river trading post, a wagon train stop, and became important through cattle, grain, rails and industry.

It is giving its biggest spectacle. It starts Saturday in a specially built outdoor theater which, including the parking lots, covers 27 acres. The show, with a cast of 1,200, is set for a 32-day run with fireworks every night depicting such scenes as the Battle of Westport.

The battle for the centennial and the Battle of Westport have something in common. Neither was easy pickings. At Westport, later annexed by Kansas City, Confederate General Sterling Price's westward advance was stopped. What the centennial does remains to be seen.

But like Westport, the centennial has had its troubles. There have been money troubles; complacency by some townsmen; snide remarks by neighboring towns; and even heard and Indian troubles.

The birthday party—that includes the spectacle and side attractions—started out to be a million-dollar affair. But bashful financial backing quickly moved it down to $650,000 and finally to $400,000.

Herbert H. Wilson, merchant and general chairman of the Centennial Association, soon discovered the money was going to come hard. He called on the Junior Chamber of Commerce for help.

"The first 100 years of growth of Kansas City belonged to us; the next 100 belongs to you," he told the young men. He then suggested General Sterling Price's Truman made the request in his first semi-annual report to congress on the handling of the first year program, which began last fall.

Backing up his request, Truman said:

"The momentum already gained must under no circumstances be lost, because, once lost, it is doubtful that it can ever be recaptured at any cost."

The president gave this breakdown as to how the new money would be spent:

North Atlantic treaty nations — $1,000,000,000. This would go for weapons, a training program and would include spending of $75,000,000 for raw materials and machinery needed to boost military production in Western Europe.

Greece and Turkey — $120,000,000 to furnish "basic capital equipment", spare parts and help modernize Greek and Turkish defenses.

Iran, the Philippines and Korea — $27,000,000. The report said this would pay for equipment and training to help the Iranian army "present a firm stand in defense of independence against Soviet pressures" and to help the Philippines and South Korean governments to maintain internal order in the face of communist threats.

General area of China — $75,000,000. The president said this money is needed "to continue and expand upon" present programs for giving help "to the non-communist forces in this area that are now engaged in danger of being engulfed, in active conflict with militant communist elements."

Informed officials said, however, that assistance will be given to 14 countries aside from those nations in "the general area of China."

The North Atlantic treaty nations to get arms, they said, are Britain, France, Italy, Belgium, The Netherlands, Luxembourg, Denmark, Norway and Portugal.

Portugal is being added to the list for the first time. Small amounts of naval and air force equipment will be sent to bolster Portugal's coastal defenses and to help maintain the strategic air bases on the Azores.

President Truman also asked "some form of limited authority" in the event of an emergency, to divert a "small portion" of money earmarked for any specific area.

"With the continuation of Soviet probing for weak spots in the security structure of the free world," he said, "emergency situations of this character may well arise and require prompt and positive action by the United States."

Truman also urged congress to change present laws to make it possible to sell American arms "under appropriate safeguards" to nations not covered specifically in the present legislation.

Mexican 'Hookers' Gain Big Profits From Smuggled Migrant Labor Trade

By LAURENCE F. STUNTZ

MEXICO CITY, June 1.—(AP)—It's a dark night on the Rio Grande. A man comes out of the brush on the Mexican shore. He peers furtively through the darkness up and down the river. Satisfied, he creeps down the bank. A dozen men, their left wrists tied to a long cord, follow him in line. He wades into the water, sounding a long siren. One of the men splashes and the leader shushes him. They wade quietly to the far bank. The leader stays behind as the other men cut themselves loose and climb up the bank, disappearing into the brush on the U. S. side.

Another consignment of smuggled Mexican farm workers has arrived in the U. S.

Works Along Shore

The leader is an "enganchador," a "hooker", so called because he pulls men out of the water. For two or three days he has been quietly talking to Mexicans camped along the shore. They want to go to the U. S. to work. Even at 25 cents an hour, they will make more in an hour than they could make in half a day at home. They do not think about the higher cost of food and cigarettes in the U. S. The hooker finally completes the number he is willing to smuggle across the river. They pay in advance—how much depends on how much they have. The average is probably around 10 or 15 pesos — $1.00 or $1.85—a man. Then they start their crossings.

There is small penalty for failure. If the U. S. authorities catch them, the illegal migrants are merely sent back to Mexico. If Mexican catch them, there is a fine of up to 10,000 pesos ($1,150) and two to five years in jail. But Pedro Garcia, chief of the Reynosa Border Patrol, says he has only two men to patrol a hundred miles. There are other types of "man smugglers." Sometimes boatmen will take the Mexicans across in small skiffs or on rafts. These are called "patrones"—"duckmen". On the western frontier, up against California and Arizona, the smugglers are men who know the habits of the Border Patrol and have a good chance of getting their wares across the fence. Or they may be merely guides, who take the would-be immigrant to a point where there is no fence.

Two Migrant Types

The migrant—called a "wet-back" along the river or a "wire-jumper" in the west—is in danger from the time he leaves Mexico. He may step into a hole in the ford, or the current may wash him downstream. If he crosses in a boat, it may overturn. So many bodies of aliens have been taken from the river that a U. S. sheriff in the lower valley complained that the free cemetery in his town was full of unidentified Mexicans.

Mexicans say that even if the migrant gets across the river safely, and finds a job with a U. S. farmer, he is still not well off. The authorities here say the illegal migrant is often paid less than the prevailing wage and that his food and sleeping quarters are substandard. If he complains, he is threatened with being turned over to U. S. officers.

Even assuming he gets a job, saves his money, and can leave when he wants to, he is not in the clear. He can turn himself over to the U. S. authorities and be sent back to Mexico in safety. But probably he doesn't know that. He's in a strange land, with a strange language. So he finds another hooker to take him back across the river.

There have been many cases where returning workers were killed for their savings by the hookers, and their bodies thrown into the river.

Same Legal Workers

Mexico sends some workers to the U. S. legally. They must go on formal contracts which provide they be paid the prevailing wage. They are insured against death or accident and their employer must agree to pay their way back to Mexico. But for every one who goes on a formal contract, there are two or three wanting to go anyway they can. These are the ones who fall victim to the hookers.

There is no reliable estimate how many smugglers are working on the border. But one foreign observer said an estimate of "several scores" was probably conservative. Mexico is planning a determined campaign to halt their operations. Patrols may be increased on the Mexican side of the river. An educational campaign will warn the workers of the dangers they run. The U. S., by the migrant workers' agreement, is bound to do all it can to halt illegal immigration. There are U. S. laws against illegal entry and an active Border Patrol to enforce them. U. S. farmers in the border areas are warned not to deal with the smugglers. Those who have "wetbacks" working for them are not allowed to employ legal immigrants.

But there is a demand for labor on the U. S. side of the river. And a supply on the Mexican side. The old law of supply and demand is still working.

Three Injured In Auto Accident On North Highway 75

Three persons were injured in an automobile collision near Chambers creek bridge on North Highway 75 about 11 a. m. Thursday. None are believed critically hurt.

I. P. Newby of Dallas was brought to the Corsicana Hospital and Clinic in a Griffin ambulance.

Artis Lee Parris, Wortham negro, and his wife, Brothy Pearl, were brought to the P. and S. Hospital in a McCammon ambulance, and were dismissed after first aid.

County officers investigated. Newby received several broken ribs and abrasions.

Corporation Court

Routine matters appeared on the police blotter Thursday morning.

Officers Powell and Wright arrested a man and a woman for affray and both drew fines before Corporation Recorder Clay Nash.

Officer Powell and Wright arrested a man on a charge of associating with a common prostitute.

Six paid overtime parking fines. Tires and tubes were found on a road in front of the Day-Night Supply, 125 North Commerce, and the owner was notified.

Officers Wiswell and Steele arrested a man at a local cafe on an intoxication charge.

Sixteen automobiles were tagged for overtime parking.

the grade 'B' business of dairying in Navarro county."

Schmidt said 70 per cent of the milk the nation goes into manufacturing plant as grade "B," and he contended this type of dairying can be done here. "Every baby that's born has to creep and crawl," he said, indicating that grade A dairying was for the specialist who must learn his work by experience.

Other persons at the meeting were C. C. President Festus Pierce, A. B. Whitten, Borden's field man from Mexico, J. F. Harris, superintendent of the Borden plant at Waco; George Logan, agricultural manager of the Waco Chamber of Commerce, and Mrs. Homer Logan of Drane, who plans to go into the dairying business.

Pierce and the dairy committee reiterated their interest in the county's proposed dairy club. Pierce said the entire dairy program in Navarro county will be given the committee's consideration and study.

Mesquite, nearly 1,700. In 1940 it had 1,045.

Irvine, about 2,500. In 1940 it was 1,089.

Grand Prairie's figure is still unavailable. Russell's best guess was that its population would run from 900 to 1,000 per cent greater than in 1940. At that time, Grand Prairie had 1,695 persons, so its population today would be nearly 18,000.

Mayor L. M. Crow received the preliminary estimate of Waco's population from Census Director W. H. Skelton. The figure is for population within the city limits of the Central Texas town. The 1940 population was 55,982.

Crow also said the unofficial estimate of greater Waco was 101,885.

Crow noted that all of McLennan county is now included as a part of Metropolitan Waco by recent order of the Department of Commerce. Final preliminary figures on McLennan county should be available in about two weeks, Skelton said.

District Census Supervisor Ben E. Hauser said Hardeman county showed an overall loss of 88 persons—from 11,073 in 1940 to 10,185 in 1950. However, he said, Quanah, the county seat, gained 827, from 3767 to 4594. Chillicothe, also in the county, lost a dozen persons, with an unofficial count of 1,411 this year.

Throckmorton county lost 664 persons, while the City of Throckmorton gained 186. The county dropped from 4,725 to 3,611. The city gained from 1,113 to 1,319.

District Supervisor L. D. Whiteley announced final census figures for King county show a 19 percent decrease under the 1940 population. The county has a population of 883 now, compared with 1,066 in 1940. Guthrie is the only town in the county, but it is not incorporated and is not counted separately.

Whiteley said.

Preliminary census figures for Beeville in South Texas showed a population of 9,324. That's a 2,535 gain over the 1940 census of 6,789.

STOP that leak!

Woody's like the little Dutch Boy, Peter, who tried to stop the leak in the dike. Woody's trying to save the soil lost from our East Texas woodlands that are burned by fire.

Woven together like a huge net, the roots of our East Texas trees exert a powerful factor to prevent erosion.*

THERE'S NO SOIL TO WASTE IN THE STATE. So why burn the woods with wild fire? Our farm and ranch economy is tied in closely with trees. One helps the other — fire hurts them all.

*At Tyler, studies by experts show that we lose about a quarter ton of soil an acre from burned woodlands. That's five times the amount lost from protected woodlands.

Farm Conditions Reported Spotted By Reserve Bank

DALLAS, June 1.—(AP)—Too little rain in the West and too much in the East and Central portions have caused spotty farming and ranching conditions in the Eleventh Federal Reserve district, which spreads into four other states.

In other fields, the bank said today in its monthly business report, conditions are good.

Most Crops Late
The district includes all of Texas, northern half of Louisiana, south-east corner of Oklahoma, southern half of New Mexico and southern fourth of Arizona.

The bank said that despite the weather, generally good progress has been made in recent weeks with planting and cultivation of summer crops, although this is much later than usual.

Construction activity continued at a high level in April for the eleventh consecutive month. The value of construction contracts during April was 12 per cent below the near-record total in March but 74 per cent above that in April last year.

Oil Position Better
Petroleum industry position has improved substantially in recent months. The bank said this reflects continued heavy domestic demand for petroleum and its products, and resulting large withdrawals of crude oil and refined products from storage.

People bought more goods in eleventh district department stores during April than in most other districts. Sales were slightly larger than in March and two per cent above those of April last year.

Murchison Buys Kirby Oil Stock

HOUSTON, June 1.—(AP)—The Houston Post reported one-fifth of the stock of the Kirby Petroleum company—100,000 shares—had been sold to Clinton W. Murchison and associates of Dallas.

The newspaper said the sale was by George and Herman Brown of Houston. Purchase price was reported at about $20 a share.

On Jan. 1 Kirby's outstanding and issued stock totaled 500,000 shares.

But Motorists Can't Get Them—

New Engines Go 30 Miles Per Gallon On Fuels If Gasoline Octane Is Hiked

NEW YORK, June 1.—(AP)—Auto engineers know how to make engines that will give ordinary-sized cars 30 or more miles per gallon. Petroleum engineers know how to make the high octane gasoline these high compression engines require.

The question: When will they get together so that you can have your dream car? The answer: Not yet. Detroit points the finger at the oil industry. Before these 11-1 or 12-1 compression engines can be turned out in volume, there must be 100 octane gasoline available at every service station at a price motorists will pay.

Oilmen say the dream cars aren't close enough to mass production yet to justify the cost of equipping refineries to turn out a flood of expensive gasoline which the average motorist doesn't need now.

But in-between models already are on the road. Owners of some of these late models quote garagemen as saying that the new engines could give up to 40 per cent more miles a gallon if higher octane gasoline were available. Garagemen say it isn't being produced because: 1. Its price would be too high, due to the rising cost of special refining equipment—and motorists think gasoline is high enough as it is; 2. The lead content for auto gas is held down to three cubic centimeters (one-tenth of a fluid ounce) per gallon by health authorities.

Oil refiners reply that the octane rating has been going up of late and that plans call for a steady but gradual increase over the next few years. Meanwhile, most of the postwar cars do very well on the 90 to 93 octane gasoline now available. They say only a small minority of the cars on the road today would benefit by higher octane gasoline. Premium gasoline now rates 90 octane or better; ordinary gasoline runs from 83 to 86 octane in most places.

Octane Explained.
The octane rating is the measure of the tendency of the fuel to knock in a gasoline engine. Hundred octane gas won't knock under any circumstances. If 90 per cent of the gasoline won't knock under any circumstances it is called 90 octane gas.

A 12-1 compression engine means one in which the fuel charge in the cylinder is compressed into 1-12 of the cylinder space as the piston comes up ward. That engine requires the 100 per cent no-knocking gasoline for the promised 30-mile per gallon performance.

The first forestry school in the United States, first headed by Gifford Pinchot, was formed on what is now the Vanderbilt Estate, outside of Asheville, N. C.

CORSCANA, TEX., JUNE 2, 1950

Edgar A. Guest

The Poet Of The People

JUNE
June is the month of lovely brides
And lovely garden blooms,
And I would add, in fashion clad,
The month of nervous grooms.Miss Riley writes with gifted pen
Of palm and flower-filled rooms.
The brides arrayed in rich brocade,
But overlooks the grooms.Oh, June, where'd be those lovely brides
Whose hair the rose perfumes;
Who'd wear those veils which she details

Without those nervous grooms?

Let others write of lovely brides,
To me the day looms
This verse to pen. It's June again!
The month of nervous grooms.States, together with many already here who have gained entry under conditions making them subject of the kingdom. By a stroke of his pen the attorney-general can define the limits of movement of speech of one of these subjects, or exile one,
and he doesn't have to tell anybody why.Presumably this great power, utterly contrary to American principles, is given to the attorney-general to enable him to keep out dangerous aliens. What is a dangerous alien? Is he a man with a sabotage plan hidden in the heel of his shoe, or a man with a political idea which frightens someone? We have been inclined to cheer when this power has been used to keep out some Communist who might have wanted to make a speech.
But a power used to keep out people who think differently from us may someday be used to keep out those who think like us. An arbitrary power is a denial of the principles of democracy. We are digging fool's gold if we think that we can employ
it to protect freedom.

HOW COMMUNISTS LIVE

The Communists, past and present, testifying at Washington have at least shown what it means to be a Communist. Above all else, it means a puppetlike obedience, without questioning
and with instant compliance.
With this goes a strange use of language, the so-called
"Aesopic" interpretation brought out in the trial of the eleven Communists convicted in Judge Medina's court. By this a word might mean its absolute opposite,
it might mean literally what is said, or part of it might have a special interpretation. Ordinary language for a Communist is practically a code, so complicated that its users seem often to have become confused. And at any moment the most faithful worker may find himself removed or sent far away,
without ever knowing why.This is a strange life, and fortunately not like anything else in these United States. All but a few Americans would prefer our freedom. Why the few don't is one of the puzzles of the hour.

BOND TO A JOB

Reports from industrial areas suggest that some workers are beginning to have dubious second thoughts about the effects of some of the pension systems which have lately been established. In many instances the pension promised at the end of working years depends on continuous employment with the same company; a worker who leaves
his job also leaves his pension credits behind him, and must start over when he goes to work for a different employer. This is particularly characteristic of the so-called non-contributory system, in which the worker
makes no direct contribution to the support of the system.For a long time workers in general have wanted a higher degree of job security, against loss of a job
through circumstances completely beyond the worker's control. Various kinds of merit and seniority systems have been set up to provide this sense of security in a job. The effect of many of these pension systems is to bind the worker more closely to his job, and that in a sense is job security. But it is a different kind of bond,
one which tends to hold the worker to his job whether he likes it or not. Workers have been trying to get away from that kind of bond ever since the days when the son of a cobbler was destined to be a cobbler throughout his lifeRED SAILS IN THE SUNSETThe modern worker wants freedom to choose his job,
and to change it if he wishes.
It is not easy to reconcile job security, old age security and individual freedom of action. Freedom from the old job bonds was won first,
and job security has now
been largely established.
Old age security is a dominant current problem. Next may come the striking of a balance among these.

WARMER WORLD

Grandfather may have been right. A favorite remark went something like this: "You young folks aint seen nothing. You talk about winters, but I tell you that when I was a boy, we had real winters and no mistake." The old gentleman was not necessarily indulging in the exaggerations to which age is liable. It may really have been colder in his day.The authority of the Weather Bureau is behind the theory of a warmer
world. Ivan R. Tannehill, chief of reports and forecasts, says that evidence is piling up to indicate a warming climate. Glaciers in Spitzbergen are receding. Coming closer to home, the time between spring's last killing frost and winter's first has increased by twenty days in forty years.Supposing this trend continues, what then? There are limits to all good things. If the growing warmth melted
the Arctic ice sheets, countries like Holland and our own coastal cities would be far under water.It would be a strange world if cities like London,
New York and Tokyo were engulfed in the sea.

DEMOCRATIC ARMY

Still moving along in the campaign to reduce discrimination between officers and enlisted persons in the military services, the Army has made new rules encouraging mixture of the two in sports, even requiring it in certain cases. This is in sharp contrast to the customs which used to forbid
mingling of officers and men in recreation or social functions. Grizzled old regulars may say it will be the ruination of the service. But people can probably be people, even in the Army.

RUDENESS MAY PAY

"Bad beer, dirty glasses, uncivility." These are the allurements offered by a New Zealand hotel, and they are reported to bring in the trade.New Zealanders, like Americans, must be weary of the constant emphasis on service and friendship, offered by commercial firms which never heard of you before and soon make it plain
they want only your money.
A little blunt rudeness might occasionally be a refreshing change.Some years ago a Toledo, Ohio, restaurant made money because the waiters in-sulted the customers. Theywould call public attention to their table manners, and give brooms to gentlemen in summer suits, then invite everyone to "Look at the street cleaner." People loved it, and brightened visibly when the waiter asked them, "Why do you eat like that? Do you think you are at home?"It would not be wise, however, to make this practice universal.

WEAKNESS OF FRANCE

The most surprising development in the efforts to build up the armed strength of Western Europe is the military weakness of France. For centuries France has held either the first or second place in Europe, and all estimates of the military situation took her into account.Because of this the quick collapse of the French army in 1940 amazed the world. It soon appeared that almost every possible weakness underlay the defeat. At the top were incomparable generalship and failure to keep the armed forces properly supplied. Behind the front was what had a startling resemblance to the dry rot that ensues the devasta-tions of termites. At a touch the whole national structure collapsed.The struggle of Gen.
Charles De Gaulle and his helpers of the underground raised the foreign estimate of the French. Clearly there was still good in them. Now the wrangles of the politicians, overturning one ministry after another, have renewed doubts. It is also disconcerting to learn that France, the home of great armies and the original adopter of the draft, cannot raise more than a dozen or fifteen divisions, and has all her energies absorbed in the attempt to put down the In-dochinese rebels.Is France finished as a great nation, or as a nation of any kind? Probably not,
and her recent move in the direction of co-operating with Germany gives hope for her renewal of life; but it is apparent that in 1940
she suffered a knock-out blow which for a long time left her stunned. She is not yet fully awake.Knowledge in itself does not make people wise. It provides tools for those al-ready wise, and merely enables the others to talk more glibly.The difference between a democracy and a dictatorship is that in a democracy
it doesn't take so long to catch up with a dictator.

Safety is no accident.

HEALTH FLAN

The commissioner of education will retain all the statutory authority and duties now vested in them.Along with the Commissioner of Social Security they could report directly to the secretary, who would transmit their views to the president.The president said this proposal does not interfere with the safeguard against the fear of the possibility that the views of these officials could be unduly subordinated.McClellan said that as he understands the plan the surgeon general and commissioners of education will continue to make the policies for their agencies.
He said that wasn't true of last year's rejected plan."It's a decided improvement over last year's proposed plan,
and it is a step toward the serious objections made against the 1949 plan," he said.Truman said in his message he doesn't believe the plan is as good as his proposal of last year.
He promised, however, that it would result in "modest but worthwhile" economies.The president said his plan would not interfere with possible
"further adjustments in the functions of the new department."This was an obvious reference to the recommendation of the Hoover commission on government reorganization that the public health service be transferred to a United Medical Administration—a recommendation that hasn't seen a White House action.

They did.Today there is about $300,000 on hand. Another $100,000 is expected through ticket sales to the various attractions, including the specta-

side remarks—none has daunted
the centennial men, many of whom go around wearing black plainsmen's hats especially made for the occasion.The centennial fever has been maintained by numerous events, including a Philharmonic Orches-

an electric show, square dances,
and the naming of a Centennial Queen, an attractive 31-year-old switchboard operator, Miss Clara

big push in the centennial celebration. It will last three hours.
Another, this one at night and il-spectacle is a $75,000 production.

It will be given in a $200,000 out-

Of Properties To Navarro CollegeThe Coriscana Softball Association, unable to play on its home field this summer, made a move Wednesday night that may lead to a new site for its park and unhindered play in the 1951 season.Officers of the group and interested parties met at the city hall here and voted to transfer to Navarro Junior College the physical properties at Territo
Park for the use of the Softball Association and the college, provided a satisfactory agreement can be worked out. The vote was unanimous.The move came after some discussion, since it was understood that the Coriscana school board also was interested in buying the stands, fences and facilities at Territo Park for movement to an undisclosed site.H. E. Fluker, president of the association, presided over the meeting.

Details Not Revealed.

All details of the transfer were not made available at the session, but they will be incorporated in an agreement to be signed by both parties, it was indicated.It was understood, however, that the junior college will move
the properties and set them up at the new site of the college on West Highway 31. There the college will play its baseball games, and the softball associa-tion will play its softball games during the summer. The softball group will keep the proceeds from its games, less operating expenses.Representatives of the Junior College expressed the belief that an agreement could be worked out whereby the Coriscana High school baseball team could also play its games at the park's new location.First Methodist

PEACE! IT'S WONDERFUL

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Newsfeatures Writer.

Mrs. Daphne Junkett, wife of Jasper Junkett, cashier of the Upper Overcoat First National Bank, had reached a turning point. The two children were, respectively, safely married and at college, and Mr. Junkett was very busy at the bank and trying to get his golf score into the 80s. He also was program chairman of the Upper Overcoat Boosters.

The Junkett house was adequately cared for and so was Mrs. Junkett. She had a silver fox jacket and a cleaning woman a veritable pearl. Mrs. Junkett really didn't like bridge very much and she had been putting on a little weight since the children had left home. Besides, gardening was a hobby and even flower arranging had never interested her particularly.

Mrs. Junkett decided that it was time she took an active interest in community affairs. She had considered taking a job, but Mr. Junkett soon put a stop to that kind of talk—people would think he either couldn't afford to maintain his position in the town or that there was something funny about his accounts at the bank. Thus it came about that Mrs. Daphne Junkett was duly elected chairman of the current events section of the Upper Overcoat Women's Club, a post traditionally held by Mrs. J. Clearwater Stokes, who had decided to make her year-round home in Jacksonville. Mr. Junkett was really quite pleased about it and the local paper ran Mrs. Junkett's picture on the front page. This was a real challenge to Mrs. Junkett. She wrote little Daphne at college, saying that "I really think we can DO SOMETHING AFFIRMATIVE with the section because after all we've been fiddling around for years studying one part of the world after another and occasionally having some expert talk to us, provided we could get some author whose publisher would let us have him for nothing."

Mrs. Junkett decided the current events section had a real function in these perilous times—to make peace in our times a reality.

"After all," she reminded them, "everybody talks about peace, but like the weather—wasn't it Mark Twain who said it? No?—nobody does anything about it."

The women were very enthusiastic about the plan and unanimously voted to make "Peace" their theme of the year.

At the next meeting, Mrs. Jonathan Madison read her paper, the subject assigned by the club: "Should We Recognize Spain?" Then Mrs. David Tyler Gordon, 2nd, presented her paper on "Are We Too Harsh About Russia and Its Aims?" Mrs. Junkett then read her paper on "Do We Really Need Another War?"

There was an interesting discussion after the papers. Mrs. Madison quoted her husband on Spain. Mrs. Gordon quoted HER husband on Russia. And Mrs. Junkett quoted Mr. Junkett on peace. Then they had tea and went home and said what a fine, stimulating meeting it was.

However, playing golf that week end, Jonathan Madison, after scoring a birdie on the fourth hole, was called a "Fascist" by Mr. Gordon, who had gone into a sand trap. Mr. Madison, stung, shouted back a sentence to Mr. Gordon which included the words "fellow traveler."

At the club dinner that night, Mr. and Mrs. Junkett were dead by six couples they knew quite well.

The following month Mrs. Junkett led the current events section firmly that she thought it would probably be more stimulating if they changed the year's theme to "The Romance of British Shakespeare Country," and invited the author of a new Shakespeare biography to speak to them.

Truman Revamps Treasury Plans

WASHINGTON, June 1.—(AP)—President Truman has sent to congress a new treasury reorganization plan. It omits a provision to which the senate objected in turning down a similar reorganization proposal about 10 days ago. The new plan does not contain the controversial recommendation that functions of the comptroller of the treasury be placed under direction of the secretary of the treasury.

The other recommendations of the original proposal are repeated in the new plan. In a message to the senate and house, Truman said the new treasury reorganization proposal will provide "many benefits and improved operations" which "will result in a reduction in expenditures" in years to come. The new plan, under the law, will become effective after 60 days unless the senate or house disapproves.

Tri-Cities Golf Group Disbands Here Wednesday

The Tri-Cities Women's Golf Association met at the Corsicana Country Club Wednesday afternoon for a series of matches. Mrs. Marie Walker, head of the local women golfers, said that the association disbanded after Wednesday's meeting, because of attendance difficulties.

Luncheon was served to the members of the group at the club here Wednesday. Mrs. Guy Henry of Ennis took low gross in the 18-hole flight with a 81, and Mrs. Dorkley of Ennis low net, with a 79 and a gross of 109.

In the 9-hole flight, Mrs. Brockett of Waxahachie took low gross with a 63, and Suzanne McKinney of Corsicana low net with a 50, and a gross of 68.

Mrs. Augusta Bruce of Waxahachie won a prize for the lowest number of putts on the back nine, using 16 strokes. Prizes for the two lowest score on hole No. 11 went to Mrs. E. M. Jones and Mrs. Dutch Bennett, both of Waxahachie.

Emhouse

EMHOUSE, June 1.—(AP)—Mrs. V. E. Hill and daughter are guests in the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Drane.

Mr. and Mrs. John Allen, J. C. Allen and wife of Alto, were dinner guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. O. E. Allen on Sunday. In the afternoon they all met in the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. McCollum, when her family had the following guests: Mich McCollum and Mrs. Lonnie Mumwe of Corsicana and Mr. and Mrs. Jane McCollum of Dallas.

The Hon. George Nokes delivered the commencement address at the high school Friday evening. Six seniors received diplomas. Friday at noon the ladies of the PTA served a luncheon to the faculty of the school. There was fried chicken, home-made cakes and ice cream. A social hour was enjoyed by the entire faculty and about 25 ladies.

LeRoy Barlow and Miss Miri Craddock were dinner guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. O. L. Elkins Saturday night.

Mrs. C. J. Armstrong, Mrs. John Gillen and Mrs. Charles Johnson visited in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Anderson of Waxahachie Wednesday. The Vocational Agriculture boys and their teacher, E. B. Deane, Fate Brown and Mrs. O. B. Blessing left Saturday morning for a fishing trip to Lake Texahoma. They planned to stay about four days.

The many friends of John Livingston of San Angelo were grieved at his passing on Saturday. "Uncle John" as he was known to us, was a long-time resident of

Emhouse. Among the out-of-town people at the funeral were noted his brothers and sisters as follows: B. C. Livingston, L. A. Livingston, T. T. Livingston, and Mrs. A. B. Franklin, all of Mississippi; Mrs. Lucy Manning of San Angelo; H. M. Livingston of Streetman; Mrs. W. P. Herron, a sister of California, and W. H. Livingston of Prentiss, Miss., were not present; Mr. and Mrs. John Manning, Harold Deane, Mr. and

Mrs. Kendall Manning and Miss Lyndal Manning of San Angelo. The Rev. W. B. Morton conducted the rites. Mr. and Mrs. Sam P. Owen of Waxahachie, Mrs. Elton Turner of Carrollton and Mrs. B. Ray attended the commencement exercises at Huntsville where Johnny Adams received his degree. He has accepted a position as coach at Tom Ball. His wife will be remembered as the former Marie

Ray of Emhouse. They were weekend guests in the home of Mr. C. D. Owen and Ira Stokes of Dallas were here Monday to attend the Livingston funeral.

Record Class Is Graduated From Navarro College

By CLYDE E. JOHNSON
Daily Sun Staff

The largest graduating class in the four-year history of Navarro Junior College received diplomas Monday night at the school's annual commencement.

The class of 1950 consists of 63 persons who have completed their first two years of college work.

Rep. Jerry Stockard, commencement speaker, urged the graduates to "put this knowledge to work to solve your problems."

Stockard listed three vital questions—reason, resourcefulness and responsibility—necessary in making wise decisions.

"The world is in need of people who can reason, do their own thinking on important questions such as civil rights, the atom bomb, and the atomic bomb," the legislator declared.

"When we make decisions without knowledge we become prejudiced and insincere."

Stockard cited Benjamin Franklin's ability to reason and how he went about solving difficult problems and making his decisions.

"Old Benjamin Franklin," he said, "weighed one argument against the other, then objectively made his decision in the realm of ideas at a very high level."

The speaker urged the students not to be content with being just average.

"You just can't go through life being a good egg; you've got to hatch or spoil," he added.

Dean Gaston T. Gooch presented the class to College President Ray Waller, who awarded the diplomas.

Gooch made the presentation of awards and announced the following honor roll: Jean Cook, William Howard Faughn, Kenneth Renfrow, Thelma Ann Neal and John M. Remonte. All made 90 or above in their grade averages.

Faughn won the scholarship award. The activities award went to James Fuller, and Peggy Kidd, editor of the college paper, received the school spirit award.

Gooch announced the following departmental awards:

Agriculture—Charles Murphy; Athletics—Bill Reed; Commercial—Elton Hendon; Speech and Dramatics—Margaret Johnson; English—Thelma Ann Neal; History—Kenneth Berryhill; Mathematics—Kenneth Renfrow; Music—Billy Dean Clark; Science—David Pendleton.

The program included the professional, "Pomp and Circumstances" played by Billy Dan Clark. Graduates marched in the college auditorium dressed in caps and gowns.

Auto Accident Is Fatal For Baytown Woman

FAIRFIELD, May 30—(Sp)—Mrs. Eric F. Lehn of Baytown, was fatally injured and her husband was hospitalized here Monday when their automobile crashed into a tree beside Highway 75 about one and a half miles north of Fairfield.

Lehn was taken to the Free-Stone Co-op Hospital. He is with Humble Oil Co.

Mrs. Lehn was secretary and treasurer of the Girl Scouts organization at Baytown. Her body was taken to the Burleson Funeral Home here.

Highway patrolmen from Corsicana investigated the accident, which occurred about 6:20 p. m. when the auto went out of control.

The invocation; then Waller introduced the speaker.

The recessional, "Jubilee March," concluded the program.

Frost—Kenneth Ray Slater, Jerry Benjamin Scott, Joyce McGee, Jimmy Hooser, Donald Ray Hodges, Alice Frederick.

Jack Brown, Martha Ford Butler and Virgil Lee Mash, all of Dallas; Clay Davis, Amos; Glenn Deavers Gateville; William H. Dodge, Wortham; James Fuller, Conroe; Thomas Eugene Hartsfield, Waxahatchie; Billy Joe Hodge, Dallas; Billy Hopsom, Conroe; Elmer K. Howell, Kerens; Donald Jurecka, Mart; David Little, Brownwood; John C. Lowe, Mart; Christeen McKenzie, Waco; Travia McLean, Midford; Mrs. Faye Conner Moore, Ennis; Charles Edgar Murphy, Lubbock; Joe Murphy, Rice; Thelma Ann Neal, Blooming Grove; Clint Shaw, Ennis; Gerald Simpson, Barry; and Mary Alice Winstead, Richland.

The secretarial graduates are Mary Frances Brown, Mary Frances DeGeorge, Dorothy Gaines, Lila Mae McCraw, all of Corsicana; Martha Jean Hill, Toague; and Mrs. Joyce Lynn Michael of Dawson.

The program included the professional, "Pomp and Circumstances" played by Billy Dan Clark. Graduates marched in the college auditorium dressed in caps and gowns.

Stormy Weather Prevails Over Much of County

Stormy weather prevailed in Navarro county late Monday night as a part of the unsettled conditions reported from various South-west points. The business district storm sewers could not carry off the water and South Beaton street was flooded.

Four men escaped injury Monday night when the storm swept their plane across the road from the Sky Ranch 75 airport onto The Oaks golf course.

T. H. Hogle, owner of the airport, pilot, Larry Townsend, Roy Cawthorn and David Megarity were in the Townsend plane en route home from a trip to Austin. They lost the race with the approaching storm, Hogle said, the winds striking them near the drive-in theater west of Corsicana. They sought to land, a gust swept them across the road. No one was hurt. The plane was damaged.

Electric service was interrupted for short periods in several instances due to trees and high wind. The REA experienced trouble at Waxahatchie and Chaffield and also at Trumbull. The Texas Power and Light Co. suffered only minor interruptions during the storm period.

The telephone company reported numerous phones out of order Tuesday morning due to fallen limbs, etc.

Many trees lost limbs here during the night. Some hail accompanied the hard winds and almost continuous lightning. The rainfall was .66 inch.

Reports from the county included:

Dawson—Good rain, some hail, wind, no damage.

Roane—Rain, lightning, a little hail, limbs broken.

Blooming Grove—High winds, no damage, limbs broken, lightning, good rain.

Frost—Wind and rain. Heard hail roar in area, but none fell in town.

Rice—"An awful rain," lightning.

Emhouse—Rain all night. Hail fell four times, lightning and hail west of town, telephone and electric lines out.

Richland—Rain and lightning. Kerens—Good rain.

Semipro League Managers Turn In Team Rosters

Managers of the baseball teams in the Navarro-Limestone Semipro League turned in their final player rosters at a session held at the Corsicana YMCA Wednesday night.

E. S. Allen of Richland, president, was in charge of the session.

Permission was given to managers to make changes in cases where they are playing high school athletes who participate in the league.

An informal discussion was held concerning the proposed all-star game set for July 4. Tentative plans call for the team at the head of the standings on that date to play a team composed of players from the other member teams of the league. No official action was taken on this proposition at the Wednesday meeting.

Fred Newman Funeral Rites Held Tuesday

Funeral services for Fred Newman, 70, well-known Corsicanaan, who died at the P. and S. Hospital Sunday night, were held Tuesday at 10 a. m. from the McCammon Funeral Chapel. Burial was in Oakwood cemetery. The rites were conducted by Rev. Obie F. Barton, pastor of the Fellowship Baptist church.

He was engaged in the cafe business here for many years.

Surviving are a sister-in-law, Mrs. Harriett Newman, North Hollywood, and several nieces and nephews.

Palbearers were S. N. Georges, Max Brustein, Bob Holloway, N. C. Goodman, Lonnie Mitchell and John Hardin.

Mr. and Mrs. Theo Montforti have returned from their wedding trip to Colorado and New Mexico and are at home at 415 North 21st.

Weather Permits Wide Operations By Texas Farmers

AUSTIN, June 1.—(AP)—Farmers did lots of planting, re-planting and cultivating the past week, operations interrupted only in scattered areas by rain.

Grain sorghum seed bed preparation and planting was benefited in northern high plains by mid-week showers. Heavier rains stopped field work in southern and low rolling plains the latter part of the week, the U. S. Department of Agriculture reported today.

Warm Weather Helps
Growing crops in eastern and coastal counties were helped by almost a full week of warm, clear weather, and farmers caught up on much needed cultivation.

Corn made good growth, but the crop differs widely in development in all areas. Earliest fields were tasseling in central counties. There was some planting still being done in northern counties. Stands are poor in some areas and many fields in East Texas have poor color.

Cotton Blooming
Early cotton was blooming in South Central Texas. Many early fields in North Central Texas were still too wet to cultivate and most cotton in that area was being tended by thrips and cool nights.

Practically all commercial areas made good progress.

Range and pasture feed became generally adequate to abundant in all except some trans-Pecos areas.

Cantor To Aid Jewish Appeal

NEW YORK, June 1.—(AP)—Eddie Cantor says he has come to a "turning point" in his career, and from now on will devote most of his "working and leisure time" to the United Jewish Appeal.

The entertainer, a national campaign chairman of the UJA, made the statement as he embarked on the liner Queen Elizabeth for his first trip to Israel.

Notice To Contractors

Navarro county commissioners court will receive bids until 10 a. m. on June 12, 1950, for the repainting of the offices in the courthouse occupied by the county superintendent, assessor and collector and county clerk. Specifications are available at the county auditor's office. All rights reserved.

County Auditor.

THE COLONEL'S UNHORSED—The rehearsal schedule of the Trooping of the Colour ceremony in London did not call for a Guards colonel to be unhorsed. Here he is, though, getting to his feet while another officer calms his rearing charger. In the foreground are Guards recruits who attended the parade to see how things should be done. ## Soil Conservation District News

District Supervisor Navarro-Hill Soil Conservation District—
Morris Crawford, Chairman; W. C. Pearce, Vice-Chairman; Thad Jones, Secretary.

Glen Hutchins, Rice Conservation Group, has soddied two collective terrace outlets to Bermuda grass, comprising approximately three acres. The outlets were located last fall by running terrace lines and leaving a broadcast strip where the terraces can be constructed after the outlets become established to a good cover of grass. The rest of the cultivated field is being contour cultivated with the terrace strips.

M. W. White, Navarro Conservation Group, has planted five acres of K. R. Bluestem in 3 ft. rows for seed production. The seed was planted with a cotton planter after mixing two pounds of K. R. seed with eight pounds of cottonseed hulls. The K. R. Bluestem seed was planted at the rate of two pounds per acre or 10 pounds per acre of the mixture.

C. V. Breithaupt, whose farm is one mile northeast of Black Hills Church, has soddied approximately three acres of terrace outlets and pasture. This was soddied in 18 inch rows by a sodding contractor. The area was one-wayed and disced before a rain and then disced and soddied. Land was rolled immediately after sodding.

G. L. Tate, whose farm is four miles northwest of Emhouse, has soddied seven acres of pasture. Land was prepared as if cotton was to be planted. Sodding was done with a sodding machine in three foot rows.

C. J. Davis, whose farm is four miles south of Pickett, has soddied four collective terrace outlets to Bermuda grass. Sodding was done in 18 inch rows with a sodding machine. The area was rolled with a tractor and cult-packer immediately after sodding. The outlets were shaped with a bulldozer and double disced to prepare a good seedbed for sodding.

151 Junior High Students Given Their Diplomas

BY CLYDE E. JOHNSON
Daily Sun Staff.

An unusually large class—151 students—was graduated at the annual Junior High School commencement Friday morning.

Held at 10 a. m. in the auditorium, where scores were forced to stand, the program was climaxed by presentation of the coveted "Star Awards."

Presented by Principal H. C. Allen, the awards went to Iris Waller and David Brown. Graduates of the class had made the selections from a list of eligibles.

Allen explained these points were considered:

The student selected must have an average of 90 in the last two years at Junior High; must have had no more than three demerits, and be outstanding in citizenship and leadership.

Miss Waller had a two-year average of 96.27, and Brown's average was 95.07.

Leading the honor roll for the two years were Harry Donald Nicholson, 97.73, and Shirley Dean Hood, 97.

The commencement program, developed by the graduates, featured a talk by Jeanice Walker, "Building a Life," which was written by Nedra Humbert, Claudette Cobb and Iris Waller.

The talk follows:

"As we, the graduating class of 1950, come together this morning, filled with mingled joy and gratitude, we feel that we would like to pause for a moment and share with you our ideas of what it takes to make a life.

"Hildegard Hawthorne tells the story of a rather wonderful old lady who lived in a little house on a hill, not a very steep hill, with a country road that wound back and forth leading up to and past her front gate. Her cottage—for it was no more than a cottage—stood in the middle of a garden, which was mostly flowers, though it had a h e a r t y little vegetable table patch close to the back door, and some fruit trees and bushes in pretty rows against the fence.

"A great many people loved her way, year in and year out, for the little old lady was worth seeing and worth listening to. She had lived a rich life and was full of the sweet fruits of a life so spent.

"Not that she was famous. Her name was not known to the world at all. Nor was she rich. No it wasn't any money or fame that made her sought after—it was just herself.

All sorts of reasons

"All sorts of people went to her for all sorts of reasons. The children of the village liked to go because she made a curious little cooky that didn't like any other cooky they had ever eaten, and because she let them eat berries from her bushes when they were ripe, and because she told them stories once in a while.

"The young people liked to go to her when they were puzzled or disturbed, or if something very nice indeed had happened. She would listen to them so gravely and with so deep an interest, and would discuss their troubles or their happiness with them so earnestly, that I suppose they knew that she really cared, and that she thought of them as important. She once said that there was nothing in the world so important as the young because they were the future of the world, and the future was the reason for the present. So she gave them the best of herself when they came to her.

"Older people, too, went for many reasons—because they loved her or because they were interested in what she had to say. She was a great companion. In fact, she was so interested in life and people that she had something to give to everyone, and no one seemed to be outside her 'circle'.

"One day as she was talking about aims and ideals in life, she said this, and it is because of this type of idea she possessed that I have told you of this wonderful old lady.

"Making a Life"

"I think," she said, "that most people give over much thought about what is called 'making a living,' and not enough to what I might call 'making a life.' My sincere hope is that we boys and girls who are going out from Junior High will give our attention to making life a complete, rounded, deeply interesting thing, and that making a living will have to take a second place. Of course we realize that there must be, but may we make that money by doing things that we like to do and things that enrich rather than impoverish our daily living.

The building of a life may well be compared with the building of a home. The first and most important part of each is the foundation. This cannot be built hastily or easily. There are so many things that go into the foundation that do not show at a glance. The most important of these are confidence, understanding, loyalty, trust, and above all else—love. These are as important to building a life as a solid foundation is to the building of a house. As one poet has said:

"If love and loyalty and faith be struck beneath the sils, A stricken home can recover from its gravest ills."

The next consideration in the building of this home is the frame work, and this should be expandable. Three very strong pillars are play, work, and worship. Most of us expect to do some sort of work in our lives. We look forward to a busy life that will produce something worth procuring—return for the things received. We must insist that in the main our work shall interest us. To do this, it must be something we can do well, for failure is exhausting. When we plan our work, let us ask ourselves this question: "Will it make only our living, or will it add to the interest of our days to the richness of our minds and spirits, and to our qualities as men and women?"

Other Needs Cited

"In addition to our work, our minds and our bodies need refreshment and delight. We need exercise, enjoyment, and enrichment. It should be our aim to meet as many worthwhile people as possible—to see, understand, and experience the gifts that such lives have to offer. To do this sort of thing we should know something worth knowing—we should recognize qualities. We must know what is good wherever we find it—in art, in literature, in persons, in government, in nature. Let's not be content with second bests. When we read a great book instead of a small one, we are closer to truth and to beauty, we are in touch with a finer spirit, and we will find our hearts responding and broadening out to meet this higher conception. So it is with the best of everything.

"Then—the life that is sustained and must live in close fellowship with God.

"For God has promised Strength for the day, Rest for the labor, Light for the way, Help from above, Unfailing sympathy, Undefying Love."

"So let us follow Tennyson's admonition and cast all our cares on God, that ancient melody:

"In our house should be windows and doors. Through these comes the world into our lives. Will we have something to offer others struggling along beside us? a friendly smile, a gracious word, a bit of beauty or kindness? Emily Dickinson expresses this thought in a lovely little poem—

"If I can stop one heart from breaking, I shall not live in vain. If I can ease one life the aching Or cool one pain, Or help one fainting robin, Unto his nest again, I shall not live in vain."

"From the front door leads to the community—a road to the schools, the neighbors.

"Yes, life is a great adventure, a neat challenge. It is a big, fine aim. Give to the world the best you have.

And the best will come back to you."

After the graduates marched in to the professional, "March from Aida," played by Mary Ann Roberts, the invocation was given by Ray Atkins, a graduate.

Margaret Jane Norvell read a poem, "Your House of Happiness," by E. Y. Williams.

Chorus Sings.

The junior high chorus of 24 voices sang, "Where'er You Walk" by Handel, and the girl members then sang "Mighty Lak a Rose," by Nevins. Miss Lena Mae McClure was accompanist.

In a greetings to the class, Supt. W. H. Norwood talked on "Playing a Game," and declared that you must believe the thing you're doing is worthwhile, and you must want to please—to do your very best."

Diplomas were presented the graduates by Mrs. H. R. Stroube, president of the board of education.

The benediction was by Rev. Millard Box, pastor of the Memorial Baptist church.

Principal Allen announced that the two-year honor roll, those who had an average for the junior high years over 90, were as follows:

Road Construction Stopped By Rains Monday Evening

Road construction work again was interrupted on Monday night's rains.

The Dawson-Emmett road will connect Highway 31 and the farm-market road from Highway 22 to Emmett, while the Emmett-Cryer Creek-Barry farm-market project was in progress.

Small culverts in the widening project on Highway 75 between Corsicana and Ennis have been completed. The widening of the five bridges on Post Oak, Briar and Chambers creeks is the next on the program. There are both main and relief bridges at the two latter named creeks.

A number of other projects are slated for construction during the summer. Improvements on U. S. 77 in and adjacent to Waxahachie will be sought Wednesday before the highway commission by an Ellis county delegation.

Candidate For Ph. D. Degree At U Of T In June

Ernest Guinne Long of Corsicana has earned Doctor of Philosophy degree from the University of Texas. The doctorate is scheduled to be awarded June 3, but Long, according to his mother, will not be present to receive it.

Dr. Long is in the research department of the John Manville Corp. in New Jersey. He finished the work toward the doctorate last July. An honor graduate of Corsicana High school in 1940 he finished Schreiner Institute, Kerrville, in 1942, and received a Bachelor of Science degree from the University of Texas in 1944. Two years later a Master of Science degree in chemical engineering was received.

Dr. Long is the son of Mr. and Mrs. E. O. Long, 1220 Sycamore, Corsicana.

Frank Harvard Is Now Living In Los Angeles

W. F. (Frank) Harvard, at one time Navarro county clerk, and now a California resident, was the subject of a recent article in the Los Angeles Daily News.

The occasion was Harvard's 255th day on the job at the news vendor's stand at the corner of Hollywood Boulevard and Western Avenue in Los Angeles.

Harvard, who also taught school at one time in Navarro county, is a brother to Mrs. B. I. Cook of Corsicana. He took over the news stand in 1938, the article stated.

The "Dude Newsboy", so named because of his taste for buttonholes and snappy suits, lists among his customers such celebrities as Mae West, Clark Gable, Will Hays and other movie figures.

Life Of John C. Calhoun Is Open Book After Rotary Club Meeting

Sixty-eight years of John C. Calhoun's life, from the time of his birth to the present day, was revealed before him at the Wednesday noon meeting of the Corsicana Rotary Club.

Fashioned after Ralph Edwards' "This Is Your Life" radio program, the skit included a recording from Edwards in which he praised not only Calhoun but the Corsicana Rotary club.

Twelve friends and members of Calhoun's family appeared on the program and each told of an event in the Corsicana man's life. It was revealed that he was born in Russett county in 1882, moved to Spring Hill in Navarro county in 1890 and arrived in Corsicana in 1905.

The script included all phases of Calhoun's life including school days, his romance and marriage, his business, the birth of his daughter and grandson, the formation of his present business firm, his political life, his venture into city politics, and his Masonic and Rotary efforts.

Appearing on the program were Mrs. John Woods, Tyler, a sister; his daughter, Mrs. Thomas George

III; his business partner, Joe Butcher; Mayor Hubert T. Braselton; C. C. Roberts, A. C. Upleger, Waco; Rupert T. Craig, Athens; John Pickens, Palestine; Mrs. Calhoun; Miss Elizabeth Harline, a sister-in-law; Mrs. John White, Dallas, and Bob Calvert, Hillsboro.

Completely surprised throughout the program, Calhoun was able to recognize the voices of all who related events of his life. After each told an incident of his life, the teller was brought into the room and seated with the guest of honor.

At the conclusion Calhoun said, "I'm deeply touched, and I couldn't begin to express my appreciation for so many fine compliments. It's been a great pleasure to review these events of my life, and an even greater feeling to be with my old friends."

Calvert, a former chairman of the Democratic committee, spoke briefly of Calhoun's life and said, "he has lived a life of service for others."

Speaking of his political life, he added, John brought out order of chaos in the state Democratic party.

Telegrams of recognition from

Gov. Allan Shivers, State Representative James C. Sewell, Blooming Grove; Pat Taggart, Waco, and Galloway Calhoun, Tyler, were read.

Calhoun was presented with a scroll of appreciation from the local Rotary club and was given two wax recordings of the program as well as a record player.

A get-together of friends and relatives was held in the afternoon at the hotel.

The program was arranged by Club President Jack Sisco and Program Chairman George O. Nokes. Nokes acted as master of ceremonies. They were given a vote of thanks by King F. Elliott, club secretary.

Guests at the meeting included Congressman Olin Teague, R. W. Knight, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Calhoun, Miss Inez Blackwell, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Eckhardt, Wortham; M. H. Statham, J. C. West, Jack Sisco, Jr., Mrs. Jack Sisco, Jack Bonds, Mrs. Joe Butler, Mrs. George O. Nokes, Drew Gillen, Blooming Grove; Blake Gillen, Hubbard; Mrs. Kathleen Moore, Mrs. Judd Collier, Montfort; Mrs. John C. Calhoun, Joe Bell, Hubbard. Visiting Rotarians were George E. Adams, Eryan, and Dolph Werry, Dallas.

Mrs. Sam Werner presided at the piano in place of Mrs. Ernest Moore who was attending the meeting as a birthday guest of her husband, Mrs. Moore, the club sweetheart, was presented with a birthday cake.

Prior to the start of the program, Fred Prince called on Arthur Elliott and O. L. Albritton, and asked them if they thought this was to be a portrayal of their lives. Prince then brought Calhoun to the seat of honor.

Included on the program was a letter from Ben Yowell, a business associate of Calhoun.

The invocation and benediction were given by Dr. Erwin F. Bohm-falk.

Woman Paid For "Jury Service"

Women serving on juries? No, not in Texas; but one got paid for "jury service" in District Judge A. P. Mays' court Tuesday morning.

When the list of petit jurors was called, an aged woman was seen in the group. She had been summoned by mistake under the jury wheel system.

"You will be excused," said Judge Mays, "but the county of Navarro owes you $4."

The woman went to the clerk's office and collected.

Farm Talk—

Vetch Is Million-Dollar Business In County; Record Harvest Looms

By CLYDE E. JOHNSON
 Daily Sun Staff

Don't be surprised if Navarro county comes up with a "Vetch Festival" some of these days. There's already talk of forming an association of vetch growers, and its membership certainly would be quite large.

Starting about the middle of this month, vetches will be seen sweeping the legume fields. When the harvest is over a few weeks later, Navarro countians will have reaped a record seed crop. A conservative guess for vetch alone would be some 6,000,000 pounds.

This new million-dollar business in Navarro county agriculture for 1950 will be showing its profitable results for years to come. A large "voluntary" legume crop was made in 1949. And the soil, of course, will be rich with nitrogen for some time yet—with little or no additional seeding.

One agriculturalist has estimated the county will harvest 100 carloads of vetch seed.

But there are problems to solve, such as finding adequate machinery, storage and marketing.

So, it is likely that a legume growers' association—if such is formed—will prove helpful along these lines.

Speaking of vetch, R. W. George, Jr., has a 65-acre patch near the Elgin community that will make a "vetch capital" neighbors in Kaufman county stop and stare.

A livestock farmer, George has 400 acres—none of it in cultivation—and his money is made from growing on "poor" land. His pasture program is what's paying off. That, and his 50 head of cattle.

George will harvest his seed within the next few weeks. It's been estimated he'll get over 200 pounds per acre.

MORE ABOUT VETCH: What this soil-building legume can do to improve a pasture is well demonstrated by Bob Harris, also near Pickett. One of his pastures, a regular "needle grass hill" in 1946, when phosphate and vetch were applied, still has an excellent voluntary vetch crop and fine grasses.

Land that a cotton farmer would cuss is being turned into practical, profitable pastures by Charles Copeland at Pursey.

One small hillside strip—perfect for soil erosion—is covered with biennial white sweet clover seeded two years ago. The deep-rooted legume does the work of vetch in soil-building but absorbs more moisture and keeps the soil intact.

Eventually, Copeland will seed the hillside in grass. Conservation projects are paying off in more ways than one on Copeland's farm. A look at his place reveals numerous sodded gulleys—now fine for grazing—terracing, and spots of grass at obvious erosion areas.

A new method to control the corn earworm may make sweet corn a more profitable crop. The A. and M. Extension Service reported Thursday that spray applications of an emulsion containing DDT, mineral oil and water have proved successful.

First Maturing Hospital Bonds Paid Off Today

Payment of the first year's maturing bonds of the $550,000 Navarro County Memorial Hospital was consummated one day ahead of the maturity date Wednesday.

Bonds from 1 through 22, $1,000 each, $22,000, held by the First National Bank of Corsicana, were paid by E. Y. Cunningham, Navarro county auditor, leaving $528,000 bonds outstanding.

The bonds bear 2-1/2 per cent interest, although bonuses and premiums the time of their sale last year reduced the real interest to 2.35 per cent.

The $550,000 bond issue represents the county's part in the $1,600,000 hospital project.

Interest on the remaining $528,000 bonds is also due June 1, this year.

1950 'CORSICAN' EDITION DEDICATED TO MRS. STROUBE, PRESIDENT OF SCHOOL BOARD

Dedicated to Mrs. H. R. Stroube, president of the Corsicana Board of Education, the thirty-fifth annual yearbook of Corsicana High School is an expression of appreciation for the facilities of education now being offered the young people of this city.

The dedicatory page features a splendid picture of Mrs. Stroube with these words: "To Mrs. H. R. Stroube, whose kindness, sincere interest, and genuine friendship have helped the students of C.H.S. we affectionately dedicate the 1950 CORSICAN."

The opening bars of Dr. L. E. Kelton's "All Hail the Corsicana Board of Education," the yearbook which was distributed to an enthusiastic and appreciative student body May 19th. Attractively bound in gold and white scroll-patterned leather, with a massive "C" imprinted in gold on its cover, the book will preserve golden memories for its owners and will become an even more treasured volume as the years come and go.

Message of Editor.

In her message, Editor D'Wayne Howell declared, "It is the wish of the editor that this yearbook will serve a two-fold purpose—to be through its pages an open sesame to the memory lane of early school experiences and to be a pleasant reminder of the work and the fun experienced in our glorious senior year."

Summer Plans For Teachers In Schools Listed

According to an article in the May issue of "The Jungle Beast Journal," which is published by the Press Club of Corsicana High School, summer plans of High School teachers are as follows:

"After Miss Byrd finishes her summer school work, she plans to do something unusual in traveling. A Caribbean cruise, taking in Cuba, is her scheduled itinerary for the summer."

"When Mr. Gengerich isn't working on his Masters' Degree at Baylor, he is going to fish, swim and play golf. By the time he gets through with all that, he says he won't have any money left for a vacation."

Teachers who have vacations planned are H. A. Garland—to New Mexico; Miss Laura Milam—to Oklahoma; Mrs. Russell—to Mexico with her Spanish class; and Mr. and Mrs. Trotman—to Colorado.

"When asked what she was going to do in the summer, Miss Mayme Moore replied, 'As little as possible.' Miss Lucille Holsey also plans to be a lady of leisure. Mrs. Tom Bailey is traveling with her husband to a house party in Nacogdoches for four or five days in June."

"Those teachers who will be working on Masters' Degrees are Miss Stewart, Miss Bonner, Otis Pederson and Boyd Payne. Mr. Cummins has a year-round job at the school. Mrs. Elliott, Mr. Matthews and Mr. Forsythe will be spending most of the summer in Corsicana. Teaching in Alabama State College for Women and visiting with relatives are Miss Kiber's plans."

Peace Messages Hid In Cavern Until Arabs Make Great Find

Recent Sensational Discovery in Jordan Valley Sets Scientists by Ears—Commentary On Book of Habakkuk Older Than Christianity—Jordan Valley Gives Up Secret of Millenniums

By WILLIAM T. ELLIS
and EARL L. DOUGLASS

The most sensational event of our times in the realm of religion was made in the Jordan Valley a few months ago by a band of roving Bedouins. One of them ventured into a small hole which opened into a large cavern.

There they found five clay jars, sealed with pitch. The Arabs reported to the neighboring Syrian Christian monastery, which in turn got in touch with the American School for Oriental Research whose amazed and thrilled scholars quickly identified the scrolls as being more than 100 years before the Christian era.

The Book of Isaiah was in best condition and exactly in the words of the book as we have it today.

A Great Discovery.
Next in antiquity was a commentary on the Book of Habakkuk. That is where we come in, for Habakkuk is the subject of study today. He poured out his judgments of God against oppressors of mark. Out of his resting place of 2000 years we come to the message of justice and mercy.

Nothing throws us off the beam of our thinking more effectively than to make our modern, more fundamentally than to make our suffering of the righteous. We can understand why a wicked man suffers. He is probably only getting what he deserves. But what of the righteous? Why should they have to suffer?

We encounter this question arising in men's minds far back in antiquity. The Greeks wondered and questioned. So did the Hebrew prophets, Habakkuk, set himself to answer the question, and part of what he had to say on this matter constitutes the Sunday school lesson for this week.

A Terrified Nation.
Talk about the modern concern over the dreadful possibilities in the H-bomb! The Babylonian conquerors were about the toughest of organized ruffians with which the world has ever had to deal.

Habakkuk saw the armies of Babylon coming and realized that was in store for his nation. Not only was he terrified, his faith was badly shaken that God should allow the people of Judah who better than their approaching conquerors, to be overwhelmed by the Babylonians.

Shake hands, Habakkuk. You and we caught the same net of bewilderment. We sympathize with your problem, for it is ours also—and the most baffling that has ever confronted humanity.

This is today's Number One Question.

Put simply, in colloquial language, this question is "How can a good God stand for what is going on in the world today, and still keep His job as God?"

By our short views, judgment only from the evidence of today and the near-athand, the Almighty seems to be the losing side. But wait; the evidence is not all in. It must be accumulated from a wide expanse of time and space. Events not immediately obvious must be taken into account.

A Religious Solution.
As the pagan proverb says, "God does not pay in this way; but He always pays." His ways are not our ways, and His word bids us wait.

God's Final Warning and Invitation

The Day of Grace was finally ended for the Antediluvian people when Noah finished the Ark. God had approved an extension of 120 years for Noah, "a Preacher of Righteousness," to take vigorous measures to halt the wicked march of mankind who were facing the coming of the Deluge, and to reverse the Judgment of God, but he sadly failed! Men hardened their hearts and refused to believe the Prophecy of Noah—"But Noah found Grace in the eyes of the Lord, to the saving of his household" within the Ark, which he by Faith had builded! It was indeed a tragic thing when an entire world discovered that it was eternally too late to find a Saviour;—Doomed to a cold and chilly adventure into the Unknown World without God, and without Hope! This is where we stand today;—"But as the days of Noah were, so shall also the coming of the Son of God be." (Math. 24:37) There is no chance to halt and reverse the coming destruction
